INDESmed compression socks are produced with 25mmHg (100% compression) in the ankle area, 17.5mmHg (70% compression) in the calf, and 12.5mmHg (50% compression) in the popliteal fossa.

Only gradual compression can properly improve blood flow and muscle oxygenation, pushing the returning blood from the bottom of your legs towards your heart.

Ankle swelling and varicose veins

Avoid ankle swelling due to long flights or prolonged standing. INDESmed compression socks will successfully prevent varicose veins related to prolonged standing. Indicated for treatment of:

- Stage I, telangectasia or reticular veins
- Stage II, varicose veins with no symptoms or moderate symptoms
- Treatment of some skin changes due to venous disorders, such as eczema/dermatitis, specifically around the ankle area

Please, always follow your Doctor intructions.

Sport Usage, Improve your performance !

Reduce calf strain, muscle soreness, and recover faster from hard workout. Wearing INDESmed's compression socks during a hard training will reduce fatigue on your legs and lower your HR; wearing them after hard workout will help elimination of lactic acid and toxins accumulated over the muscles.
